

The Curtis/s Family Society - Paper Clips

2005

These paper clips have been compiled from a number of sources. Some paper clips have been sent to me from local newspapers. Some were from a collection of newspaper clippings gathered by the former paperclip editor of the Society, Rev. Tyler C. Curtis, who died May 19, 2005. Most have been collected in electronic form from newspapers or other sites on the Internet.

The full paper clip may be seen on the page indicated in the index after each name.

Most paper clips are obituaries, but a few are newspaper clippings about other events in the lives of a Curtis/s relative.

Arthur E. Hutchinson, Genealogist, Vice-President, and database Archivist for the Curtis/s Family Society has reviewed all of the paper clips. He has been able to identify the families and genealogical line of many of the persons in the paper clips. All of his comments are included in red at the end of each paperclip. The family lineages of those paperclips without Arthur Hutchinson's comments in red are not able to be identified at this time.

Hopefully, users of these paperclips will find members of their families in this collection.

Please, if anyone has any additional information about any of the paper clips listed, please forward that information to the compiler below to be included in future editions of these paper clips, and to be forwarded to the Curtis/s Family Society.

This collection of The Curtis/s Family Society – Paper Clips for 2005 belongs to the Curtis/s Family Society and to the compiler. Any reproduction, or any other use, of any of the contents of The Curtis/s Family Society – Paper Clips for 2005 is encouraged, and must include a reference to The Curtis/s Family Society – Paper Clips for 2005 and to The Curtis/s Family Society.

Curtis, Catherine (The Examiner, Independence, MO Sept. 17-18, 2005)

After 33 years of volunteering and helping people fix up their homes, Catherine Curtis is putting the Old Towne Spring PAC to rest. The non-profit organization Curtis started in 1972 has helped countless low-income, handicapped and elderly people with home repairs and maintenance through grants. . Curtis, who, turned 86 last week, looks back fondly on the work. "It was all volunteer, but I didn't mind doing it," she said. "It was to help people." Curtis has had trouble with her eyesight since March and has been unable to keep up with the organization's paperwork and other duties. "I would have kept going if this didn't happen to my eye-sight," she said, "but I knew I couldn't keep it all up." Her decades as a volunteer have included 27 years with the Parent Teacher Association prior to forming Old Townie during the days of urban renewal in Independence. The first project the group did was a trash cleanup that netted 16,000 pounds of garbage. In the early days Old Towne got side-walks on the east side of Noland Road from Pacific Street to Walnut Street, a new bridge on East Lexington Avenue, and helped realign Pacific Street at Hocker Street. Its original membership was 100 people, but these days it is more like 30. The Community Development Act of 1974 took Old Towne under its wing, and the organization has relied on block grant funding ever since, along with assistance from United Services Community Action Agency and the Mid America Regional Council. Curtis has served as the Independence delegate appointed to MARC's Commission on Aging, the Nutrition Committee and the Community Policy Committee. She has also served on the Silver Haired Legislature. The city honored Curtis last named the dining hall at the Palmer Center after her. She poured her heart and soul into finding a permanent nutrition site for seniors. The program had been at the Sermon Center, where it conflicted with other center activities. She is active politically-and campaigns for her favorite candidates. She petitions for social issues affecting seniors and people on low-incomes. She is currently involved in a plea to citizens to petition the government to save Social Security benefits in the future. Curtis grew up at 517 S. High St. in Independence from age 3 to age 11. After moving away for a while, she returned after World War II and bought the same house she spent her childhood. She learned to be quite handy along the way, tinkering in electrical work, concrete, woodworking and just about anything maintenance-related. "If I could do it all again, I would have been a contractor," she said. Those who have interacted with Curtis over the years are grateful for her work and sad to see the Old Towne Spring PAC, come to an end. "She's seen that we had a new roof and she's given us a furnace, and she gets our grass mowed." Curtis, despite her failing eyesight, will continue to pursue social issues and attend committee meetings. "A lot of people are sad I'm closing it down, but I'm still out there, trying to give them information on health issues and Social Security," she said. Curtis recently closed down a personal business, J&J, a couple of months ago.. It was named after her son; John, and daughter, Jane.

In the 1990s he and Kris Warner started an installation company called Floor Services, Inc., to handle the installation of business for Stanton-Cudahy. In 1992 Don and Barbara started Solid Solutions, Inc., in a small shop, and created a customer-friendly, solid surface custom countertop company. He was helped by a loyal group of employees that he considered part of his family. The foundation that Don built in this company will continue, run by his son, Scott. Don is survived by wife, Barbara, and their three sons, Robert and his wife, Lisa, and their sons, Joel and Chris; Scott, and his wife, Terrie, and Don's favorite granddaughter Kelsey Dawn; Mark, and his wife, Pam, and their sons, Andrew and Ethan; his dear aunt Irene Quinn, of Yuma, Ariz.; his sister, Linda Christianson, of Longview, Wash.; Ardith and Daryl Rothfus of Vancouver, Wash., and Marlene and Bruce Barry of Florida, also survive him. Curtis, Esther (Lansing State Journal) ?/?/2000 (from an article Eastern H.S. Prepares 75th anniversary fete) . (clipping without date sent to former paper clip editor, Tyler Curtis.)

Class of 1929 grad hopes event draws many other alums Esther Curtis has known many students and teachers at Eastern High School. On Friday, she hopes to see a few more. She's not sure how many are still around, though. Curtis, 94, is an alumni from Eastern's first graduating class of 1929. Eastern hosts its 75th anniversary Friday, giving alumni such as Curtis a chance to get together after decades apart. "I hope and pray that there's more than just me from that time," Curtis said. For the school, it's an opportunity to show the community its success at graduating students who have gone on to lead productive lives. Eastern started the anniversary celebration last year, when students laid bricks for the school's memorial garden. On Friday, the celebration peaks with a student-produced movie covering 75 years of the school's history. In producing the movie, Eastern junior Curtis Simmons "looked through every yearbook we owned," he said. The school also will recognize its alumni. "It's a banner year," said Stefanie Dummer, an English teacher at Eastern High School. "We're coordinating with the idea that there's not a lot of schools in the area that have been around for 75 years." The city school often suffers from a bad image, Dummer said. Recognizing the successes of its alumni is a way to break that. "Some really good people have come out of Eastern High School," she said. Many count Curtis among them. She's known as Grandmother in the Eastern-area neighborhood, where she's lived since 1918. "At one time, I could name every person who lived on Michigan Avenue. I've seen all the old homes around Sparrow torn down," she said. Twice widowed, she was a housewife for many years, then she worked as a teacher's aide at Bingham Elementary School. She has 13 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren. All five of her children graduated from Lansing schools and went on to become professors, teachers and artists. While so much has changed, and is still changing-she's dreading the moment when Pattengill Middle School, which is adjacent to Eastern, will be torn down to build a new one. She hangs on to the memories of the students and teachers she's known, and to whom she has said goodbye through the years. "There's so many little things. It's fun to think back," she said

Curtis, George William (The San Diego Union-Tribune) 9/10/2003

As a guardian of building codes and a supervisor of inspections, Bill Curtis' job grew like the city of San Diego...Exposed to the varying views and voices of politicians, construction industry officials and city residents, he could be an easy tar-get for criticism. Yet he usually emerged un-scathed, revered by his staff and respected by a succession of city managers who relied on his expertise. "He was the perfect man for the job," said Gordon Murdoch, who succeeded him in 1984 as head of building inspections for the city. The cause of death was complications from hear surgery. Mr. Curtis joined the city Building Department in 1955 as assistant director of building inspection. He was promoted to director in 1968. Under his leadership, the city streamlined procedures in which building permits were issued and inspections were conducted. HE created an apprenticeship program for training new inspectors. Each year Mr. Curtis would represent San Diego in education and code development conferences throughout the country,. Uniform building codes were debated and developed at the conferences. George William Curtis was born in Greycbull, Wyo., and raised in Denver. He graduated from the University of Colorado in 1943 with a bachelor's degree in civil engineering and was a member of Chi Epsilon, a national civil engineering honor society. After graduating, he was commissioned as an ensign in the Navy. Assigned to the Brooklyn Navy Yard, he helped construct the battleship Missouri. He left the Navy as a lieutenant and worked for a decade as a structural engineer in Los Angeles for C.F. Braun & Co. His specialty was the design and construction of refineries and chemical plants.. He joined the city of San Diego in 1955 and bought a home in the Fletridge area of Point Lorma. He was active in the Point Loma Kiwanis Club.

He was an elder at University Christian Church for 30 years and later joined Point Loma Community Presbyterian Church where he was a member of 17 years. He was an avid woodworker and enjoyed sailing. Survivors include his wife of 43 years Peggy; daughters Janet Harding of Yuma, Ariz., and Carol Mellor of San Diego' sons Howard Curtis of Cotati and James Curtis of Nevada City' and eight grand children.

(AEH: His family seems to be shown in the 1930 Federal census of Denver as follows:

ED 16-220, sheet 9A, p. 248, enumerated 8 April 1920 at 2886 Bryant Street, dwelling 144, family 154: Howard G. Curtis, head, age 35, 1st m. age 21, b. Maryland, father b. Pennsylvania, mother b. Maryland, he was a civil engineer

Asa (sic) H. Curtis, wife, age 32, 1st m. age 18, b. Colorado, father b. Missouri, mother b. Iowa, no occupation

William G. Curtis, son, age 9, b. Wyoming, father b. Maryland, mother b. Colorado, no occupation

It is possible he is the George W. Curtis found in the Social Security Death Index with the following information: SSN: 549-38-7279 issued in California before 1951, b. 15 March 1921, d. 27 Aug 2003, last residence was San Diego.

No further record of any of these has yet been found.)

John Curtiss, age 30, male, farmer, $2,400 in real estate, b. Connecticut

Albin (sic) Curtiss, age 5/12, male, b. Wisconsin

Betsey Curtiss, age 62, female, b. Connecticut (b. c. 1788; possibly John's mother?)

Eliza Marshal, age 22, female, b. New York (I suspect this Eliza marries John by 1853 due to the family composition in later census; if not this Eliza, then one of a like age and b. location.)

The 1860 census finds the family in Fayette Co., Iowa (with 3 additional children); the 1870 & 1880 census in Kenosha Co., Wisconsin. John's records consistently point to a birth circa 1820 in Connecticut. Neither John nor Eliza have been found in the 1900 or later census.)

Curtis, Hugh Paul, MD - (Press Democrat)&(Ukiah Daily Journal) (CA) 4/17/05

CURTIS, Dr., Hugh Paul. Hugh passed away at his home on Tuesday, April 12, 2005 surrounded by his family. Born August 20, 1923 in Yakima, Washington, he received his Master's Degree in 1947 from UC Medical School San Francisco and in 1954 he received his surgical boards. He was a major in the United States Army and was Assistant Chief of Surgery in Landstuhl, Germany from 1954 to 1957. He was a practicing physician in Ukiah for 36 years. Hugh and Phyllis' love of nature attracted them to Ukiah as a future home and community in which to practice medicine and raise a family. In 1957, Ukiah had very few medical specialists. Hugh for many years encouraged more and more specialists to practice in Ukiah and at the same time was instrumental in bringing consultants from San Francisco to Ukiah to keep the medical community abreast of new developments. His medical ethics were superb and a role model for everyone in the medical field. Hugh loved being a doctor. His description of his chosen profession, printed on the cover of the program for the 50th anniversary, class of 1947, UC Medical School, captures the spirit with which he approached medicine. It has been a wonderful trip...interesting and fulfilling. I likened each working morning to Christmas...I could hardly wait to see what the day held... The enthusiasm and devotion Hugh brought to medicine he brought to every other activity and endeavor he loved. His passion for the out of doors was never ending and contagious to everyone around him whether it was back packing, fly fishing, bird watching, skin diving, skiing, tennis or working in his beloved garden. In nature his spirit was delighted and he shared his delight deeply with others. He also loved classical music and played the cello throughout most of his life. He was a steady, loving and devoted son, husband, father and grandfather. He was a man blessed in family, friends and vocation. Hugh is survived by his wife of 58 years Phyllis Curtis of Ukiah, daughters Robin Curtis of Rohnert Park and Kim Curtis of Durham, North Carolina, by his brother David Curtis of Hawaii and by his grandchildren Marianna and Miles Coles Curtis. A Celebration of Life will be held on Saturday, June 11, 2005, time and place will be announced at a later date. The family welcomes all friends and members of the community. His remains will be scattered over his beloved Pacific Ocean. Memorial contributions to the Nature Conservancy 4245 N. Fairfax Dr., Suite 100, Arlington, VA 22203-1606, the Environmental Defense, PO Box 5055, Hagerstown, MD 21741-9729 or the Peregrine Audubon Society, PO Box 311, Ukiah, CA 95482 are preferred by the family.

Curtis, Joan (Curtis) Bessette (Burlington Free Press 2/24/05) BURLINGTON VT

— Joan Curtis Bessette; 76, formerly of Fern Hill, passed away peacefully in Fletcher Allen Health Care on Feb. 23, 2005, after a brief illness. She was born June 20, 1928, the daughter of Irving and Lois (Wine) Curtis, in Worcester, Mass., where She lived the first 10 years of her life. After a short stay in Rockford, Ill., Joan moved to and settled in her beloved Vermont where she, found her greatest happiness. Joan lived life more than most by enjoying the little things, which many simply pass by with little regard. A breeze through the trees, squirrels and birds squabbling over a feeder, every flower that bloomed, were jewels to be cherished. As a resident of Starr Farm for several years she could often be found singing with the facility's pet birds in the activities room. A devout animal person, cats were her special love before dogs, Joan truly enjoyed all animals & seemed to communicate with them better than she could| with most people. She some times believed she was part cat and how her children would laugh. Joan also greatly enjoyed the games and will continue to reign as the famly Yahtzee Queen. Joan leaves four of her six children, Terrance T. of northern Vermont, Pale-Moon Winslow of Hinesburg, R.D. Bessette of Brownwood, Texas, and last but-not least her baby girl, Teki Cass of Colchester; her grandchildren, Brad and Missy Hayden of Starksboro, Mark Hayden of Brownwood, Danny Francis of Essex, Julie Mae Bessette of Austin, Texas, and Jerrick Bessette, also Of Texas. Curtis, Kenneth Irwin - \(The Gazette\) 12/4/2005

During World War II, General Douglas Mac Arthur, puffing on his corn cob pipe, frequently strode into the office of Lt. Col. Ken Curtis with orders for a new and often challenging, island-hopping assignment. Events like this regularly defined the career and life of the proud gentleman, soldier, civic leader, community activist, mentor and dear friend that many in Colorado Springs knew as General Curtis. Kenneth Irwin Curtis was born on March 12, 1910, in Rutherford, New Jersey to Albert and Miriam Curtis. In 1925 the Curtis family moved to Shorewood, Wisconsin, where Ken graduated from high school in 1928. Immediately after graduation, Ken worked his way around the world on a tramp steamer. This remarkably bold voyage brought him to exotic ports such as Shanghai and Bombay and left Ken a changed young man. By 1931 he had received an appointment to the U.S. Military Academy at West Point and by 1935 he had graduated with a commission in the Artillery. In 1936 Ken married the sister of one of his West Point classmates, the former Miss Edith K. Simons of Leavenworth, Kansas and together they embarked on a life long journey of service to his country, his community and his fellow man. Edie, loving the adventure of all of his assignments, was the perfect military wife, and remained by his side till her death in December, 2000. During World War II, Ken served in the Southwest Pacific Area for three years. His assignments included those of Plans and Operations Officer (S-3) of the 40th Anti-Aircraft Artillery Brigade, Commanding Officer of the Airborne 50 Caliber Anti-Aircraft Machine Gun Battalion, and Chief Instructor at the Southwest Pacific Amphibious Training Center. During his last year and a half in the area, he was with the G-3 Plans and Operations Division General Headquarters, Southwest Pacific, Philippines Theater where he earned the Legion of Merit Award. It was during this time that Ken served on the staff of General Douglas MacArthur and received the Philippines Liberation Ribbon with the Campaign Service Star and the Philippines Independence Ribbon along with the American Campaign Medal, the Asiatic Pacific Campaign Medal, the World War II Victory Medal. Upon his return to the United States he attended the Army and Navy Staff College (now the Armed Forces Staff College) followed by four years at the Pentagon in the Organizational and Training Division of the Department of the Army General Staff. Next, he went to Canada for three years with the Interchange Group, to work with representatives from the United States, Canada, and the United Kingdom in an effort to standardize military equipment, tactics and strategies. Returning to this country in October, 1952, he spent three years as the Executive Officer of the 53rd Anti-Aircraft Brigade in Swarthmore, Pennsylvania, responsible for defending major U.S. cities from Cold War attacks. In 1954 he attended the Army War College in Carlisle Barracks, Pennsylvania followed by the Strategic Intelligence School in Washington D.C. After this training he spent two years as the Army Attach to India and Nepal where he had the pleasure of working with President Rajendra Prasad of India and King Mahendra of Nepal. Upon his return to the U.S. in August, 1958, he began his first assignment at the U.S. Army Air Defense Command (ARADCOM) headquarters in Colorado Springs where he was, successively, ARADCOM Information Officer, Assistant Chief-of-Staff, G-3 (Operations and Training), and Deputy Chief of Staff for Administration and Logistics. In 1961 Ken and Edie moved to Korea for two years so Ken could work with the Korean Military Advisory Group. While there Ken served as the senior advisor to the Commanding General of the 2nd Republic of Korea Army. He returned to Colorado Springs for good in June, 1962 where he was assigned as General Staff Officer and subsequently Deputy Chief-of-Staff for Planning and Operations for ARADCOM. Ken retired from the Army on August 1, 1965 as a Brigadier General and received the Distinguished Service Medal, but in the eyes of those who have known him since 1965, he was far from

"retired". At this point in his life Ken simply switched from a career of service to his country to one of service to his community and to his fellow man. During the next 40 years Ken generously shared his leadership and business acumen through long term commitments with organizations such as the Downtown Colorado Springs Rotary Club, The American Red Cross, The Salvation Army, Easter Seals Southern Colorado, the American Heart Association and the Pioneers Museum. For many of these organizations his involvement mushroomed from the local level to the state or regional level of leadership. During his tenure at the Pioneers Museum he spearheaded the capital campaign that enabled the Pioneers Museum to move to its current location. While Ken was passionate about assisting with community needs, his gift of giving did not end with serving on Boards. Ken's respect for the dignity of every human being led him to volunteer directly with individuals in need within multiple organizations. For over 15 years he led a two hour group session with Alzheimer's residents at Namaste, where, in the last month, at age 95, he surpassed the "1000 volunteer hours" mark. In addition, he volunteered with clients at Pikes Peak Mental Health for over 20 years. His philanthropic support has left an eternal mark on organizations such as Pikes Peak Hospice, Penrose Hospital, The Humane Society, the Rotary Foundation and Easter Seals Southern Colorado. Ken's commitment to the Colorado Springs community was felt from the boardroom to the individuals who receive services reflecting the sign of an inspirational civic role model. Ken loved his country, golf, Air Force Football (and Fisher De Berry), dogs, horses, driving his Cadillac at age 95, his daily cross word puzzles, his morning Coke a Cola, physicians, cookies, jogging (although the last few years he was limited to walking), Popeye's chicken, and mostly, his friends. He continued to have a very active social life and as his friends will attest, it would literally take two to three weeks to get a lunch date with "The General". For a man who was retired for over 40 years, he really never retired. He always served! A Memorial Service will be held at 10:00 a.m. on Friday, December 9, 2005 at First Presbyterian Church located at 219 E. Bijou Street. In lieu of flowers, contributions can be made to Easter Seals Southern Colorado, 225 S. Academy Blvd., Colorado Springs, Colorado 80910.

 This family is found in the 1930 Wisconsin census (Milwaukee Co., Shorewood Village) where the father, Albert R. Curtis, age 58, b. New York, parents b. Germany, is working as a hardware purchasing agent. The household includes his wife, Miriam, age 48, a daughter Edna, age 26, and sons Robert, age 24, b. NY, Kenneth, age 20, b. NJ, and Charles, age 15, b. NJ. However, the same family is found in the 1910 and 1920 census of Rutherford Borough, Bergen Co., New Jersey headed by Albert Cohen, age 39 and 48 respectively. One has the feeling that the family's surname was changed with the move to Wisconsin. I note Albert also changed careers as in 1910 he was listed as an "eyesight specialist" and in 1920 as an "eye doctor". No attempt was made to trace this family further. [AEH 18 Jan 2006]

1920 as the second of two sons to Lloyd Norton and Gertrude Whelan Curtis. Roger was the loving and very patient father of 7 children, Linda, Susan, Michael, Jennie and Paul with his first wife Beverly Louise Wilson and 2 step children, Naomi and Jack from his 2nd marriage to Lula Belle Current Walker. He also considered his children's spouses his own sons and daughters: Larry, Tom, Corinne, Jeanne and Ernie. He was the proud grandfather of 15 grandchildren, 10 great grandchildren and one great great. He also left behind his adoring dog, Pesty 2. He was predeceased by his loving brother and business partner, James Leroy Curtis in 1988; his wife and the mother of his five children Beverly Louise Wilson Curtis in 1959; Lula Belle Current Walker Curtis, his wife, travel partner and the mother of his two stepchildren in 1998. He was a proud citizen and war veteran of our fine country, having served as a Storekeeper 1st class for the U.S. Navy in the Aleutian Islands Campaign during World War II. He was dedicated and passionate to L.N. Curtis & Sons, where as a founding partner with his father and brother, he labored and loved for 69 years. At the time of his death, Bill Curtis was Chairman of the Board and Secretary of L.N. Curtis & sons. The firm was established in 1929 providing products and services to Fire Departments in the western US and the US Military worldwide. He served as the Chief Executive Officer for over 60 years. He was an honorary Fire Chief many times over, a life member of numerous fire-related organizations and he maintained membership in a several agency associations. A Walnut Creek resident since 1947, our dad enjoyed traveling the world, along with rock hunting, the camaraderie of those he spent time with fishing and hunting and puttering in the garden. His most important mission was to teach the values that he held close and dear: fairness, equality, passion, commitment, hard work, loyalty, generosity, determination and compassion for those who find themselves down and out. At his request, no memorial services will be held. His ashes will be scattered at sea by the immediate family. He had a life long commitment to those who are hungry, having been hungry himself as a young boy during the depression. Those wishing to make a gift or contribution in his name are encouraged to do so with a food bank and/or homeless shelter of their choice, St. Vincent de Paul free dining room in Oakland, The American Red Cross or the Salvation Army. All our family expresses their thanks and appreciation to all who have shown their concern and have been offering their prayers. Roger, Bill, Dad, Grandpa, Papa, our hero, is gone from us now, but his values and his spirit will remain. We will all dearly miss this great man, gentleman and gentle man. Art Hutchinson (Curtis/s Society Archivist) replies 4/1/05 "Re to Arthur Curtis "Paperclip" e-mail earlier today.  Stonewall: Possibly Peter (1) of Kentucky, Job(2) b. c. 1790 Kentucky, Mordica(3), Oscar P. ("P" for either Price or Plass), Ruth L.(4). Peter as the father of Job has been asserted but I've seen no good proof. Job seems to have had 7 or more children, and is probably that Job in the 1830 Lincoln Co., KY census, the 1840 Garrard Co., KY census and the 1850 Madison Co., KY census (with Mordica in his household, age 23). Mordica married certainly two and perhaps more often. Through census records, possibly 16 children of Mordica can be identified. There is much work to be done on this family fragment. In 1978 he was appointed Senior Vice President of Corporate Planning, Office of the President in Toledo, Ohio. Bill Curtiss retired from Owens Corning Fiberglas on December 31, 1983 after 37 years of distinguished service. After retiring in 1983 he combined his business acumen and love of California wines by then serving as President of Ridge Vineyards for the next five years. Throughout his life he continued to support his beloved alma mater Williams College. He served on the Williams College Board of Trustees during the critical juncture in its history when it became one of the first prestigious men's college or university to move to end discrimination based upon race, religion or gender by dissolving fraternities while admitting women. He ultimately served as President of the Board of Trustees. During his 60th reunion in 2000, he received the Joseph's Coat Award which is presented during reunion weekend to a member of the Old Guard Classes (post 50th classes) who is held in high esteem by both the College and his fellow alumni. He was overjoyed when his grandson and namesake became a member of the class of 2007. With both of his sons graduating from Stanford University, Bill also proved to be a strong supporter of Stanford through his work with the General Fund and the Buck/Cardinal Club. In addition to his wife Jean, he is survived by his sister Ruth Leggat of Westford, MA, his two sons Alan Curtiss of Manhattan Beach and William (Tony) Curtiss of Ross, his daughter-in-law Marta Osterloh Curtiss, his two grandchildren Liza and Will Curtiss, and his two nephews John and Bruce Leggat. According to the wishes of the deceased, no service is planned. In lieu of flowers, the family asks that donations be made in Bill's name to Williams College (75 Park Street, Williamstown, MA 01267, Tel: (888) 374-8110), The Family Service Agency of San Mateo County (24 Second Avenue, San Mateo, CA 94401), or any charity of the donor's choice.

Curtis, William J. (The Examiner, July 22, 2005)

.....is an author, historian, teacher and photographer who has amassed quite a history of this home area of Independence and Jackson County. "I've just been interested in history since I was a little kid," he said. "IO remember being interested back before most people can remember in their lives.: Curtis who goes by Bill, is humble about receiving awards. That did not stop Mayor Ron Stewart from naming him the city's winner of a civic leadership award, as part of the Missouri municipal League program. "He's an extraordinary historian", Stewart said. "He is a walking encyclopedia of what happens and has happened in Independence. Another thing I, he has this quest for what he doesn't know to seek in out and find out about it." Curtis published a history book in 2004 called "The Truman Neighborhood: From Elegant Mansions to the Neck." He used 580 of his many thousands of local photos to tell the stories of the diverse families in a historical neighborhood. "I had a lot of inside stuff on it that no one else did. It takes a lot of time. I have everything worked out in my mind before I write a word." Curtis is locally known for having a big heart for humanitarian efforts. One example of that is his donation of all book proceeds to the local neighborhood council. Another example is his attention to diversity. "H has a love for all people of all races," Stewart said. "He's very concerned about the prejudices and the biases and he's right in the middle of it trying to make a difference.. Curtis is an authority on black history in Independence and recently helped St. Paul African Methodist Episcopal Church compile a church history dating back to 1866. Curtis does many things without getting credit, he admits, but he likes it that way. "I'm most proud of the things that nobody knows about," he said. Being every good man is a good woman. Bill credits his wife, Annette Curtis, for her encouragement, not to mention her own knowledge and passion for historical subjects. "Annette is one of the leading authorities in this are in Mormon history," Curtis said, "and she has absolutely' no Latter Day Saints in her background at all." They research together and edit each other's writings. They also attend many community functions together and are asked to speak on occasion. When an award like the Missouri Municipal League honor surfaces from time to time Bill Curtis' first reaction is to avoid the attention. "She has to encourage me to be kind about receiving these things," he said about his talks I with his wife. Few people in Independence would argue against Curtis get-ting some occasional recognition, Mayor Stewart said. "It is my choice, but I do solicit the help of a few people," Stewart said. "We were talking one; day about him and we thought "why not Bill Curtis for this award?" The Missouri Municipal League honored a total of 16 winners from area communities on Thursday.
